HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
152nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 52

PROCLAIMING THE WEEK OF MAY 21ST THROUGH MAY 27, 2023 AS DELAWARE GROWN WEEK.

1 WHEREAS, there are at least 86 farm stands throughout the state allowing individuals and families to connect directly with 2 local farmers to purchase fresh produce; and

3 WHEREAS, at least 22 community-run farmers markets will be operating in Delaware this year; and

4 WHEREAS, Delaware's farmers markets are expressions of the communities in which they are held, being administered by 5 municipalities, business groups, or associations; and

6 WHEREAS, farmers markets provide unique opportunities to purchase produce and locally made value-added goods; and

7 WHEREAS, about half of Delaware farmers market sales are typically tied to agricultural products such as meats, cheeses, 8 jellies, breads, salsa, eggs, or honey – facilitating small business start-ups; and

9 WHEREAS, many farmers markets and on-farm markets accept Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) transactions, the Women
10 Infant and Children Farmers Market Nutrition Program, and the Seniors Farmers Market Nutrition Program, expanding the availability of 11 healthy, fresh fruits and vegetables; and

12 WHEREAS, Delaware's 16 "u-pick" operations offer a distinctive experience for patrons to get the freshest fruits and 13 vegetables possible by harvesting the produce themselves; and

14 WHEREAS, 20 Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) programs in Delaware provide shareholders with fresh produce on a 15 periodic basis during the growing season; and

16 WHEREAS, initiatives are underway in city neighborhoods to empower local residents to grow their own healthy food in urban 17 environments; and

18 WHEREAS, school-aged youth are increasing their agricultural literacy by learning how to grow, prepare, and eat healthy 19 fruits, vegetables, and herbs through school gardens and agriscience education programs,

20 WHEREAS, all of these activities and ventures have the common benefit of encouraging the consumption of locally produced 21 fruits and vegetables, which have the most robust flavor and highest nutritional value; and

22 WHEREAS, consuming local produce helps stimulate our state's economy and builds relationships between Delaware farmers, 23 businesses, and citizens; and

24 WHEREAS, marketing and promoting local produce is environmentally beneficial by reducing the energy needed to transport 25 food from farms to consumers;

26 NOW, THEREFORE:

27 BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the 152nd Delaware General Assembly that from May 21-27, 2023 is 28 proclaimed as Delaware Grown Week.

29 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that activities should be undertaken during this week to highlight ventures that produce, 30 distribute and market Delaware Grown produce in The First State.

SYNOPSIS

This concurrent resolution proclaims the week of May 21-27, 2023 as Delaware Grown Week. It has been nine years since the General Assembly first partnered with the Delaware Department of Agriculture to establish this annual observation to facilitate better, healthier relationships between Delaware farmers and local consumers. Delaware Grown Week is celebrated annually the third full week of May. Successful passage of this resolution will continue this worthy collaboration.
